NUSI Founder Shri Mohamed Ebrahim Serang Day Celebrations: Honoring the Legacy of a Great Leader and

Hind Mazdoor Sabha (HMS) for the successful completion of 75 years

On 9th May 2023, the National Union of Seafarers of India (NUSI) and seafarers celebrated the NUSI Founder Shri Mohamed Ebrahim Serang Day to honor the legacy of the great leader along with Hind Mazdoor Sabha (HMS) for the successful completion of 75 years.

The event was presided over by NUSI President, Capt. Nand Hiranandani and was attended by several eminent personalities from the shipping fraternity along with the seafarers and their families.

The event began with a speech by Shri Abdul Rehman, the grandson of the late Shri Mohamed Ebrahim Serang, who shared inspiring stories about his grandfather's life and legacy. This was followed by a speech by Shri Milind Kandalgaoonkar, General Secretary -cum- Treasurer, NUSI who spoke about the various initiatives taken by the NUSI founder and NUSI team to support the welfare of seafarers and their families and to be the number one union on a pan-India level.

Shri Venu P. Nair, the General Secretary of the National Railway Mazdoor Sabha (NRMU C.R./K.R. Mumbai), the Guest of Honor shared his inspirational thoughts and the importance of unions and the role they play in protecting the rights of workers. Shri Nair won the hearts of the gathering with his fiery speech.

The Chief Guest for the event Shri Sanjay Vadhavkar, the General Secretary of the Hind Mazdoor Sabha Maharashtra Council - (HMS), delivered an insightful speech on the importance of seafarers in India's economy and how NUSI implements seafarers' welfare schemes in society and act as a model for trade unions in India. He also appreciated the NUSI welfare initiatives for seafarers and their families.

Varuna Awardee Capt Rajesh Tandon also participated in the event and shared his experiences with the audience. Capt. Tushar Pradhan, General Secretary, the Maritime Union of India (MUI), gave a speech on the challenges faced by seafarers and how NUSI and MUI are working towards improving their working conditions and protecting their rights.

During this event, NUSI also distributed welfare financial assistance to seafarers and their families.

The evening concluded with a vote of thanks by Shri Louis Gomes, NUSI Vice President followed by dinner, providing an opportunity for the guests to network and socialize.

The event was a fitting tribute to the great leader and it was heartening to see so many leaders from different organizations come together to celebrate the legacy of Shri Mohamed Ebrahim Serang the "Father of the Indian Seafarers Movement".

Williams - Mystic Maritime Program Students Awarded Crowley Scholarships

Students Jessica Jiang and Ari Quasney awarded Crowley maritime scholarships

Williams - Mystic Maritime Studies Program students Jessica Jiang and Ari Quasney were awarded Crowley scholarships for their academic achievements, demonstration of the company's core values of drive, integrity, and sustainability, and interest in the maritime industry.

Jiang, of Brooklyn, New York, is a sophomore at Williams College where she studies English. Her marine education spans multiple areas including marine ecology, marine policy, and American maritime history. During her studies with Williams-Mystic, she is researching the effects of rising climate temperatures on the feeding rate of an invasive species of crab, as well as the impact of plastic bans on low-income communities.

Quasney, from Munster, Indiana, is also a sophomore at Williams

College and is pursuing a degree in geoscience in addition to a combined degree in art history and studio art. They are a member of the deaf community and serve as the accessibility coordinator for the Williams College of Accessibility. As part of their studies at Williams-Mystic, Quasney is researching the effects of variable tides and wave energy on coastlines and examining how port cities adapt construction in response to natural disaster events.
