Monkeypox outbreak: WHO to call emergency meeting...

Felicitations of Ms. Divya Jain on the occasion of International Day of Women in Maritime on 18th May 2022.

Ms Divya Jain

With great pleasure and honor, The Institute of Marine Engineers (India) Mumbai Branch along with Navi Mumbai and Gujarat Chapter is felicitating Chief Engineer Ms. Divya Jatin Jain, who became the first woman C/E for achieving the rare feat, of leading the Engine team of all-women engineers, on board M.T. Swarna Krishna. The vessel M.T. Swarna Krishna made history, when she commenced the voyage from Mumbai to Vadinar, a 'historic' and 'first ever' sailing, commanded and managed wholly by Women Officers on board on the eve of IWD 2021.

She is one of the most renowned, brave, eminent sailor who not only survived the male-oriented world of Marine but enjoyed each and every moment of life as a lesson and made beautiful memories to cherish.

Ms. Divya Jain, a woman with full of enthusiasm and endeavors completed her marine Engineering in the year 2008 from Tolani Maritime Institute. She started her sailing journey as TME with Seearland shipping in the year 2008 on Bulk carrier M.V. Montrose. She rose to the rank of Chief Engineer in the year 2020 on Shipping Corporation of India Ship M.T. Desh Shanti. She has sailed on tankers, bulk carriers, and a Passenger ship. She says that her sailing journey has been very adventurous and full of learning. In her spare time, she likes to travel and spend time with family.

Born in Kanpur and raised in the holy city Prayagraj of Uttar Pradesh she was groomed by her family. Struggles and hardships are faced by most people, but out of that very few people shine bright. Her father was her mentor at that young age where she was raised with a mindset that, "nothing is impossible if you really want it, you can achieve it". And from there she embarked on her journey of becoming a Marine professional.

The three most important values which were taught to her throughout their training - 'Knowledge', 'skill', and 'attitude'. With these values, she builds the courage to set sail to her shipping career in the year 2008 with Italian owners. Since then her sailing journey has been full of beautiful memories & experiences. Embracing motherhood without quitting sailing was one of her main challenges faced by her, but with equal support from her family, she continued the journey.

Her message to all the shipping fraternity is to give equal opportunities to everyone and have confidence in hiring female seafarers.

The felicitation ceremony is proposed to be conducted in the upcoming Annual General Meeting of the IME(I) Mumbai Branch along with Navi Mumbai & Gujarat Chapter.
